LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Calvin Robinson, Editor,
Times-Virginian,
Appomattox, Va.
Dear Mr. Robinson,

Recently you had a timely article in your column about your own collection of Bibles. I trust it has made your many readers take inventory of their Bibles. This is a good time of the year for all of us to be more closely identified with the contents of our Bibles. I trust that all of your many readers will join in the Thanksgiving to Christmas Daily Bible Readings that are promoted by the American Bible Society.

The Bible has had more to do with our present American way of life than we think, and we can be thankful for it. We in America can be especially thankful for the small group of men, women, and children who braved the stormy Atlantic in a little wash-tub like ship and who endured the mudrerous Indians and the equally hostile winters, — all to plant a seed of religious freedom which would blossom red, white, and blue into a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Thankfulness is the mother of faith, the heart of prayer, the most forceful testimony we have, as it radiates through personality. The real glory of thankfulness is that it sees nothing to cry about, so it fills the heart with sunshine. Let us dare to live the thankful way, as we join in this adventure of daily reading of the Book that lives!

Sincerely,
James T. Cravens.

DEATHS

MRS. E. W. MOORE

Mrs. Ocie Burge Moore, 84, widow of Edward W. Moore, died Thursday, November 13, at 3:50 p.m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Milton Hunter, Rt. 1, Brookneal, after a long illness. Born in Appomattox County Oct. 4, 1874, she was the daughter of William Fletcher and Emily Coleman Burge. She was a member of Mount Comfort Methodist Church, Appomattox County. Surviving, in addition to Mrs. Hunter, are one son, Royal Moore, Gladstone, one sister, Mrs. C. A. Moore of Concord; five grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in Mt. Comfort Methodist Church by the Rev. Aaron D. Smith, F. J. Wingfield and F. M. Dick. Burial was in the Martin family cemetery, Appomattox County. Active pallbearers were John Henry Moore, Robert Moore, Hal Moore, Walter Moore, Milton Moore, Ned Burge, Graydon Martin and Norman Harris.

IN FASHION NOW

Cruise and resort wear are already beginning to make their appearance and Fashion chooses Bright colors mark the new collections of important designers.

The bulky sweater will be a "must" for any sea voyager. One features a V-neck and is colored in bright red. At the border is a band of turquize, yellow and green stripes. Sounds a bit loud, but it is most attractive and flattering.

White will never be replaced in popular colors for cruise wear. The white coat and the white bulky knit are worn for almost any occasion from sport to evening.

The tailored walking coat of tweed in a pastel color is the backbone of a traveler's daytime wardrobe. One eye-catching number is in turquoise tweed with notched lapels and an easy flare to the skirt. The lining is of striped silk. The cost was $126.00.

Evening wear is kept somewhat informal for most resort and cruise wardrobes. The softly pleated skirt with a silk shantung or chiffon blouse coupled with an evening sweater is a big favorite. The shirt-waist evening dress with a tremendous skirt and many under-skirts is also popular.

Multi-colored prints are outstanding choices for afternoon dresses.

Ouch!

Tourist: What's the speed limit through this quaint village?

Native: There ain't none. You city folks can't go through here fast enough to suit us.

Transco Brings County Largest Tax Payment

Appomattox had a pleasant visitor this week, in the person of Mr. Hal C. Stevenson, Ad Valorem Tax Representative of Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation, Houston, Texas. Mr. Stevenson was in Appomattox to bring a check in payment of Transco's 1958 taxes to the county.

The Transco tax ticket this year amounted to $43,949.52. This sum made Transco the largest tax payer in Appomattox.

The Ad Valorem taxes due Appomattox County for 1958 by the firm are based on valuation of property as of appraisal, which means that the big pipe line company has property in Appomattox County worth twenty-one one-half the valuation of $1,757,981 cited in arriving at the tax bill of $43,949.52.

The huge holdings of Transco in Appomattox have brought this sizeable tax revenue into the local treasury, and in the past has contributed heavily toward holding down the county tax rate.

Mr. Stevenson was accompanied to the county treasurer's office by R. V. Leffers, local Transco Superintedent.

ACP Practices For '59 Listed

According to the Appomattox ASC County Office, the initial period for requesting government cost-sharing for practices to be carried out during the 1959 program year is December 26, 1958. Farmers who file their request by December 26 will receive priority over those who file after that date.

6. Improvement of an established vegetative cover for soil or watershed protection.
7. Controlling pasture shrubs with chemicals.
8. Developing springs or seeps for livestock water as a means of protecting vegetative cover or to pond for irrigation water.

NEWS REPORT OF TOWN MAYOR

To the Citizens of
The Town of Appomattox:

You fine people are to be congratulated again for the fine spirit and excellent effort that has been shown toward both the "clean-up" and the "safety campaigns."

During the past two weeks it has been reported that quite a few vehicles have been traveling at excessive speeds through the school zone and up and down Church St. The Town officers have been notified of this fact and I would sincerely appreciate it if the people who are guilty of this would see that it is stopped immediately. It is not the desire of the town officers to issue a warrant against anyone; in order to avoid this, I plead with the ones who have been violating this ordinance to be more thoughtful and careful while driving in order to avoid anyone being hurt.

During the last monthly meeting of the Town Councin, the revision of the Town Code was discussed at length. I am sure that all of us realize the necessity of having this revision made and bringing all of the ordinances up to date. It is hoped that in the very near future this will be accomplished.

The Thanksgiving season is here and I certainly hope that all of us will take a few moments to thank the Good Lord for all of the blessings which we have to be thankful for. I feel sure that if each and everyone of us do this that we will be benefited greatly.

Your counsel and advice on all public matters will be welcomed at all times.

A college education never hurt anyone willing to learn something afterward. -Pathfrinder, Fort Wayne.

Darkleaf Marts Open Monday

The chant of the auctioneer will ring out Monday morning, Dec. 1, as warehouses in the Virginia Dark-Fired Tobacco Belt begin sales for the marketing season.

The 1958 crop has been estimated at 8,546,000 pounds, and the general forecast is for a good seilng season. The total poundage may be off a bit from the 1957 marketing, but not down as much as had been indicated when this year's acreage was again curtailed. Growers have been favored with a good growing year, and experts hint that per acre yields will amount to an average of 1,400 pounds. This could mean a banner year as to quality leaf, as the opinion is widespread that 1958 offerings will be the best in recent years.

Warehousemen have urged growers to use every possible care in readying the leaf for the warehouse floors. Proper preparation of the tobacco will enhance grower chances for better sales returns.

Dark tobacco markets are operated in Blackstone, Farmville, Lynchburg and Bedford. Appomattox is usually regarded as the best tobacco county in the belt. Local growers sell the bulk of their leaf in Farmville and Lynchburg.

Traditionally, the opening of tobacco sales brings about a spurt in business in the belt area. Markets will re-open for sales after the usual lay-off for the Christmas holiday.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS

Appomattox volunteer firemen have begun setting up the Christmas lights on the streets in downtown Appomattox. The job may be completed by the end of this week, and in readiness for the annual December display.

According to a legal ruling from the Attorney General of Virginia, requested by Appomattox Commonwealth Attorney and the Board of Supervisors, it has been found that a planned $10 per year county motor vehicle license charge could not be levied upon vehicles within the limits of an incorporated town in the county which has its own vehicle license tax.

In the light of this ruling, the Appomattox Supervisors have rescinded action taken in September for a county vehicle tax and will not call for county motor vehicle tags beginning with 1959.

The Town of Appomattox has a $5.00 town vehicle fee.

This situation will add to the financial problems to be faced by the county. The motor vehcile tags had been counted upon to provide sums badly needed for teacher salariy increases and other rising costs of county government. Now, county officials will be faced with the task of facing an increase next year in the county tax structure, unless some unforeseen miracle uncovers new tax sources.

SCHOOLS CLOSED FOR HOLIDAY

Appomattox public schools are closed Thursday and Friday of this week for the annual Thanksgiving holiday. Banks, the post office and many business places are closed for Thursday only.

WEEK OF PRAYER AT LIBERTY CHURCH

The Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions, Dec. 1-5, will be observed by the Women's Missionary Union of Liberty Baptist Church. Mrs. Ed Cawthorne will be in charge of the presentation of the program on Tuesday, which will be at 7:30 P. M. The theme for this meeting will be "Begotten Unto a Lively Hope," which will present the life stories of six national Christians.

The Wednesday evening program at 7:30, will be portrayed by six women, who will represent the religions of Buddism, Hinduism, Islam, Catholicism, Animism, and Christian. Mrs. W. W. Scott, prayer chairman, and Mrs. C. S. Booth, program chairman, will be in charge.

Dr. Floyd North, Assistant Secretary for Promotion and Education of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention will be the guest speaker Thursday at 7:30. Mrs. James Cravens is in charge of this program. Preceding the guest speaker, a period of prayer and meditation will be conducted by Mrs. Laura Richardson.

The week's program will be concluded on Friday, the World Day of Prayer. This day of prayer for Baptist women around the world was started in December 1951, by the Baptist World Alliance.

Special tables of exhibits on the following countries have been prepared for the week: India, Mrs. William Hubbard; Africa, Mrs. John Leitner; The Orient, Mrs. Edwin Wallace, and Latin America, Mrs. Alfred Harwood, Jr.

The Lottie Moon Offering goal for the Southern Baptist Convention is $6,800,000. The Virginia goal is $348,000, and the goal for Liberty W. M. S. is $1,000. The total goal and the Virginia goal represent an 11% increase over the amount given last year. The total gifts of Liberty last year including the junior organizations, were $707.80.

Under-developed lands urged to spur investment.
